He noted that 2002 marked a major breakthrough in the Company's development. «This period saw quite a number of events of paramount importance, including the adoption of a Restructuring Program and full listing of LUKOIL shares on the London Stock Exchange. But what matters most is that the Company changed its development strategy. LUKOIL continues its efforts to attain leadership in the economic sphere and remains a socially responsible Company», Vagit Alekperov said. However, the Company revised ways of achieving its goals. Instead of the former emphasis on the simple growth of production indices and social expenses, the focus is now on a tangible growth of profit, shareholder value and better control of social benefits provision. The first stage of the Restructuring Program envisaged an increase in profit, reduction of production costs and optimization of corporate governance. Primary attention will be attached to the fulfillment of the investment program, the Company's first investment program based on a project-by-project principle.
